Fellow fans and friends (remember, Russell likes Jericho)

It is so very difficult in this business to have the opportunity to be a part of something that may inspire, question, entertain, and remind us each of our humanity... your anger and frustration with the abandonment of just such an effort that was "Jericho" gives me hope!

While I tried - in my way - to prevent my town from waging war on your beloved Jericho, I can only imagine what might have been had I had you all at my side...

You are an inspiration.

These past several days have been quite a ride - full of disappointment and disillusionment. You see, while I had the pleasure, and honor, of going to work for a time with such a gracious and talented group of people... I too am like you - a fan! And thus, I feel doubly wounded...

While the "professional" in me -- in response to your undying support and love for our favorite show -- may simple say "Thank you!"... the "fan" in me says, "Nuts!".

Wishing us all well.
