To our fans &mdash;

I&rsquo;m Jon Steinberg, one of the creators of Jericho. I just wanted to say thank you to everyone who has shown their support and appreciation for the show over the past season, and especially over the past week. I am both surprised and humbled to learn that our show will be so missed by so many.

To take a little idea for a show and watch it grow into something that has affected so many people has been a hugely exciting and fulfilling experience, and saying goodbye to it has been difficult. But I&rsquo;m grateful for the time I got to spend with our incredible cast, crew and writing staff. I'm proud of the story we told. And I&rsquo;m touched by the commitment you&rsquo;ve all shown to it. Thank you. --Jon
