Hello everyone,

I can't say what an extreme week I've been having. Hearing that the show would not be coming back was so hard for me to process because my experience on the show has been nothing short of amazing. But now, seeing how great and passionate you guys are in all your campaigning, it makes me feel so unbelievably good to be a part of something that inspires people so much.

Believe me, I know what it is like to fight for something even against incredible odds. You know, if I listened to anyone who told me "no, you can't," I would never have been able to be a part of something as great as Jericho. So I am completely in tune with how you feel and you make me very proud.

Keep believing that anything is possible if you put your mind to it. I know that you have inspired me to keep believing that for myself!

With much gratitude,

Shoshannah Stern (Bonnie Richmond)
